Viewing your repository's releases and tags

You can view the chronological history of your repository by release name or tag version number.

Tip: You can also view a release using the GitHub CLI. For more information, see "gh release view" in the GitHub CLI documentation.

Viewing releases

- On GitHub.com, navigate to the main page of the repository.
- To the right of the list of files, click Releases.

- At the top of the Releases page, click Releases.

Viewing tags

- On GitHub.com, navigate to the main page of the repository.
- To the right of the list of files, click Releases.

- At the top of the page, click Tags.
